It is imperative for organizations to guard against all kinds of information security breaches. Security has become an intrinsic factor to business growth, competitive advantage, brand value and retaining clients. While investing on security, a top priority is cost rationalization between "preventive" and "reactive" measures, with a need to obtain optimal ROI. Further, IT systems availability and recoverability in case of any disaster is also now a crucial part of the IT security portfolio.

Agitech offers end-to-end security solutions that streamline security technologies and management processes to mitigate the security risks associated with organizations. Agitech provides consulting, design and development, and security management services across an enterprise. Our primary goal is to enhance the ROSI (Return on Security Investment) of our customer by enhancing IT security, reducing administration, operational costs and improving productivity. Our security services encompass Governance & Compliance Solutions, Business Continuity/Disaster Recovery and Security Strategy and Architecture for information, applications and infrastructure security.
